BY THE NUMBERS: IRISH VS. SEMINOLES

1	Notre Dame leads the country in least amount of personal fouls committed per game with a 13.0 average. The Irish are second in the NCAA in terms of total fouls committed (313).
2	The Irish are 2-0 against Florida State in Purcell Pavilion.
2.95	Senior guard Matt Farrell leads the ACC in three-point field goals made per game with a 2.95 average (56 total). Farrell has connected on four-or-more three-point field goals in eight games this season, including nine over the past two games (four at NC State, five vs. Boston College).
3	More weeks of game action expected to be missed by senior Bonzie Colson after fracturing a bone in his foot on Friday, December 29. Colson was averaging 21.4 points, 10.4 rebounds and over two steals and two blocks per game - the only college player to hit those averages this year and the only player to reach those averages since Sports Reference started tracking statistics in the 1992-93 season.
4	Mike Brey is the fourth-longest tenured head coach among power five conference teams - now in his 18th season at Notre Dame. Jim Boeheim (42), Mike Krzyzewski (38) and Tom Izzo (23) are the only other power five conference head coaches with a longer tenure at their current institution.
11.5	Sophomore guard T.J. Gibbs has improved his scoring by 11.5 points per game this season (4.7 to 16.2), the second-best mark in the ACC (UNC's Luke Maye leads with a +12.8 mark).
23	Games won (with eight losses) by the 1977-78 Irish team that advanced to the program's first and only NCAA Final Four. The team will be honored at halftime of Saturday's game. See page 10 and 11 for info on the team.
62	Three-point field goal shooting percentage (.619, 13-21) for sophomore forward John Mooney over the past four non-injury affected games (he was limited to eight minutes at NC State with a sprained ankle).
96	The senior class of Bonzie Colson , Matt Farrell , Martinas Geben , Matt Gregory and Austin Torres (graduate student) is two wins away from becoming the all-time winningest senior class in Notre Dame basketball history. The 2016-17 and 2012-13 senior classes currently hold the record with 97 wins over a four-year span.
347	Career assists for Matt Farrell , on pace to become the 16th Notre Dame player to reach the 350-assist plateau at Notre Dame. Farrell is 29 assists behind Kyle McAlarney for 15th on the Notre Dame career assist list.
1,861	Wins in Notre Dame men's basketball history, which is the ninth-best total in the NCAA. Notre Dame has moved from 12th on the all-time wins list to ninth during the Mike Brey Era (2000-01 to present).

IRISH PLAY HOST TO FLORIDA STATE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The University of Notre Dame men's basketball team (14-10, 4-7 ACC) returns to action Saturday afternoon against Florida State (17-7, 6-6 ACC) on ESPN2 at 4 p.m. ET. The program will be celebrating the 40th anniversary of its 1978 Final Four team at halftime of the game.

QUICK FACTS

- T.J. Gibbs has hit double-digit scoring in a career-best 12 straight games, tied for the seventh-best streak in the ACC. Senior Bonzie Colson still leads the league in consecutive double-digit scoring games with 31.
- T.J. Gibbs ranks among the top 10 in the ACC statistical rankings (all games) in minutes played (5th, 37.29), 3FG% (5th, .420), points per game (8th, 16.2), 3FGM (8th, 2.42), free throw percentage (10th, .827) and assist/turnover ratio (10th, 2.08). Gibbs and Boston College's Justin Robinson are the only ACC players to rank among the top 10 in all six of those categories.
- Matt Farrell is approaching two career milestones - 350 assists (he has 347 current) and 150 made 3FGs (149 current). When he reaches those milestones, he will become the seventh Irish player to dish out 350 assists and make 150 three-point field goals - Chris Thomas, Kyle McAlamey, Chris Quinn, Jerian Grant, Eric Atkins and Martin Ingelsby are the others - see page 3 of this notes package for a full breakdown.
- Martinas Geben has scored in double figures in eight of the last 12 games, while pulling down nine or more rebounds in 10 of the last 13 games.
- John Mooney has increased his career-high for points in a single game in three of his last five games played, including a personal-best 16 points against Boston College.

NOTRE DAME - FLORIDA STATE SERIES HISTORY

Notre Dame and Florida State will be meeting for the eighth time on Saturday afternoon, with the Seminoles leading the all-time series 4-3. Six of the previous seven meetings have come as ACC opponents, with the team splitting those contests 3-3. In the last meeting, No. 3 seed Notre Dame defeated No. 2 Florida State 77-73 in the semifinals of the ACC Championship - earning Notre Dame its second bid to the ACC final in four full seasons of league competition.

INJURY TIMELINE

Notre Dame has been hit by the injury bug this season, playing a significant amount of the season without three of its top six players. A timeline of the injury losses:

Friday, Dec. 29, 2013 (loss of Colson) - Senior All-American and National Player of the Year candidate Bonzie Colson injures his foot in practice. He starts and plays the full game against Georgia Tech on Saturday, Dec. 30 (scoring 22 points and collecting 17 rebounds), but the discomfort in his left foot leads to an x-ray performed on Monday, Jan. 1. On Tuesday, Jan. 2, it is announced that Colson will miss eight weeks with a fracture in his left foot. He undergoes successful surgery on Thursday, Jan. 4 and is expected to miss eight weeks of action.

Wednesday, Jan. 3 (loss of Farrell) - In the first game without Bonzie Colson in the lineup, senior guard and Wooden Award watch list selection Matt Farrell severely sprains his left ankle with 5:09 remaining in the first half. Farrell would miss the next three games (at Syracuse - W, at Georgia Tech - L, vs. North Carolina - L). He returned to the starting line up on Tuesday, Jan. 16, against Louisville.

Tuesday, Jan. 16 (loss of Harvey) - With Farrell back in the starting lineup, freshman D.J. Harvey (who had started the previous four games in place of Colson) suffers a bone bruise in his left knee with 8:25 remaining in the first half. Harvey would be sidelined for the next three games (and is expected to be out of the lineup at least one more week).

Thursday, Jan. 24 (loss of Farrell again) - After competing in two games, Farrell suffers a setback in the rehabilitation from his ankle injury. An MRI is performed and a bone bruise is identified in his left ankle (suffered during the original injury on Jan. 3). Farrell is sidelined indefinitely and does not play against Virginia Tech (L) or Duke (L). He will be a game time decision for the contest at NC State.

Since losing Colson, the Irish have been able to field a lineup with Farrell and Harvey for just 11:35 of game time (the first half of the double overtime loss to Louisville before Harvey's injury).

Thursday, Feb. 1 (loss of Mooney) - With Farrell back to practice, John Mooney sprains his right ankle in the final segment of practice on Thursday, Feb. 1. Mooney attempts to 'give it a go' at NC State and remains in the starting lineup, but is eventually limited to just eight minutes of playing time.

Mooney returned to the lineup full time on Tuesday, Feb. 6, against Boston College and scored a career-best 16 points.

FARRELL DOING WHAT BREY GUARDS DO

Senior guard Matt Farrell is approaching two key career milestones - 350 assists and 150 made three-point field goals. Only six players in Notre Dame basketball history have hit those numbers and all six are what could be described as prototypical Mike Brey guards (ability to pass and shoot).

350 Assist / 150 Made Three Point Field Goals at Notre Dame

Name	Years	Assists	3FGM
Chris Thomas	2001-05	833	302
Kyle McAlarney	2005-09	376	298
Chris Quinn	2002-06	428	239

MATT FARRELL	2014-present	347	149

GUARDS GET BETTER

Senior Matt Farrell and sophomore T.J. Gibbs not only share the ball handling duties in the Notre Dame backcourt, they also are linked by their noteworthy development as part of the Irish roster.

Moving from a reserve role to the starting point guard for the 2016-17 season, Farrell improved his scoring output by 11.5 points for the season - 2.6 to 14.1 - to rank second in the ACC.

In 2017-18, Gibbs is following Farrell's path while moving from a reserve to the starting line up. Currently, Gibbs has improved his scoring output 11.5 points per game (4.7 to 16.2) - which is second in the ACC.

INTERNATIONAL DUO

Senior Martin Geben (Vilnius, Lithuania) and sophomore Nikola Djogo (Hamilton, Ontario, Canada) became first pair of foreign-born players to start a game during the Mike Brey era when they were both in the starting five against Virginia Tech on Jan. 27, 2018.

The last pair of foreign-born players to start a game for Notre Dame occurred in the 1999-2000 season under head coach Matt Doherty. On Jan. 25, 2000, freshmen Jere Macura and Ivan Kartelo - both from Split, Croatia - started against Miami (Florida).

Djogo is the first Canadian-born player to start a game for Notre Dame. He and Geben join Macura, Kartelo, Tom Timmermans (Drieahu, is, Netherlands) and Eric Katenda (Paris, France) as the six foreign-born players to compete for Notre Dame under head coach Mike Brey.

GIBBS STEPS UP WITH COLSON/FARRELL SIDELINED

Sophomore guard T.J. Gibbs became Notre Dame's main scoring threat with the loss of Bonzie Colson and Matt Farrell due to left-leg injuries.

Gibbs played five full games without Colson or Farrell in the lineup - at Syracuse, at Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Virginia Tech and at Duke. Over those five contests, Gibbs averaged 19.4 ppg, 5.2 apg and 3.6 rpg.

GOOD MOONEY RISING

Sophomore forward John Mooney has made the most of his increased playing time due to the injuries to Bonzie Colson, Matt Farrell and D.J. Harvey.

In the four full injury-free games (he was limited to eight minutes at NC State with a sprained ankle) Mooney has increased his scoring output by close to 10 points (4.3 before the past three games to 14.5) and his rebounds-per-game from 3.4 to 6.8.

Not to be overlooked, Mooney also has been red-hot from three-point range in his past four full games played (.619), including a career-best four three-point field goals at No. 4/5 Duke and versus Boston College.

641 AND COUNTING

Notre Dame has made at least one three-pointer in 641 straight contests dating back to the 1998-99 campaign. The Fighting Irish have made at least one three pointer during every game of the Mike Brey era. The last time an Irish team failed to hit a three-pointer in a game was in a 101-70 loss to Connecticut at the Hartford Civic Center on Jan. 12, 1999. Notre Dame finished 0-7 from beyond the arc in that contest.

A SEASON OF MILESTONES CONTINUE FOR MIKE BREY

Notre Dame head coach Mike Brey has reached one key milestone in his coaching career this season and is poised to reach two more before the season ends.

Brey became the all-time men's basketball coaching wins leader at Notre Dame (396 current) with an 88-58 victory over NC State on January 3, 2018.

Brey is four wins away from 400 at Notre Dame, which would make him the 13th active coach to have 400 wins at his current school.

Brey is five wins away from 500 in his coaching career, on pace to become the 31st active coach to reach 500 career wins.

Should Brey reach the 500-win barrier, he will join Mike Krzyzewski, Jim Boeheim, Roy Williams, Greg Kampe, Tony Shaver, Tom Izzo, Fran Dunphy, Bob McKillop, Jay Wright and Mark Few as the only current coaches to win 500 or more games while coaching at just one or two schools.

See pages 11 and 12 of this notes package for more historical and background information on Mike Brey.

WINNINGEST CLASS AT NOTRE DAME?

The 2016-17 senior class of Steve Vasturia, V.J. Beachem and graduate student Patrick Mazza matched the school record for wins over a four-year stretch last season, joining the 2012-13 group of Joey Brooks, Mike Broghammer, Jack Cooley and Scott Martin with 97 wins.

The 2017-18 senior class of Bonzie Colson, Matt Farrell, Martin Geben, Matt Gregory and graduate student Austin Torres is on pace to surpass that school record this season.

Senior All-American Bonzie Colson, the 2017-18 ACC Player of the Year and consensus preseason first-team All-American, was lost for eight weeks of game action after suffering a fracture in his left foot on Friday, December 29, 2017. After scoring 22 points with a career-best 17 rebounds on December 30, 2017, Colson's fractured foot was revealed in an x-ray.

He underwent successful surgery in South Bend, Indiana, on Thursday, January 4, 2018.

GEHEN'S BIG MOMENT

Senior forward Martin Geben has been playing his best basketball of his Notre Dame career this season and stepped up in a clutch situation at the 2017 Maui Jim Maui Invitational.

With the Irish trailing by a point and three seconds remaining, Geben was fouled on an in-bounds play and sent to the foul line. A consistent free throw shooter in practice, Geben has not seen many opportunities in his career (he was 53-70, .750 percentage, before the two attempts against Wichita State) but stepped up to convert both free throw attempts and provide the game-winning points.

Geben's final two games in Maui, 10 pts vs. LSU and a career-high matching 12 against Wichita State, marked the first time in his career he had posted back-to-back double-digit scoring games.

COLSON A CONSENSUS PRESEASON ALL-AMERICAN

Bonzie Colson, the top returning rebounder and second-leading returning scorer in the ACC, has been named a 2016-17 Preseason All-American by a majority of the publications and websites that cover college basketball. The Associated Press, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News, The Athletic and Blue Ribbon Yearbook all placed Colson on their preseason first team.

NOTRE DAME PICKED THIRD IN ACC PRESEASON POLL

The University of Notre Dame men's basketball team has been selected to finish third in the Atlantic Coast Conference for the 2017-18 season. The poll was conducted as part of the league's annual media day activities in Charlotte, North Carolina, on Wednesday, October 25.

The third-place preseason team poll position marks the high mark for the Irish in the ACC (Notre Dame joined the league for the 2013-14 season) and highest preseason conference mark since the 2012-13 team was selected to finish third in the BIG EAST Conference. The third-place recognition matches the top preseason conference ranking in program history. The Irish also were selected to finish third in the BIG EAST in 2003-04.

The preseason poll also points out just how difficult the ACC schedule will be for the Irish this season. Notre Dame is the only conference school with road games at Duke (1st), North Carolina (2nd) and Virginia (6th).

BONZIE COLSON NAMED ACC PRESEASON PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Senior forward Bonzie Colson was overwhelmingly voted as the Atlantic Coast Conference Preseason Player of the Year as part of the league's annual media day activities in Charlotte, North Carolina, on Wednesday, October 25. Colson, who led the league in rebounding (10.1) during the 2016-17 season and finished ninth in scoring (17.8), received 49 of the 69 possible votes for the preseason player of the year nod. He was the lone ACC player to average a double-double per game last season.

Colson is the first Notre Dame player to earn a preseason conference player of the year award since Luke Harangody repeated as the BIG EAST preseason player of the year in 2008-09 and 2009-10. Colson also joins Jerian Grant (2013-14, 2014-15) and Demetrius Jackson (2015-16) as Irish players selected to the preseason all-ACC team.

Other previous Notre Dame preseason conference player of the year selections include Pat Garrity (BIG EAST, 1997-98) and Troy Murphy (BIG EAST, 2000-01). Murphy ended up earning the BIG EAST Player of the Year award at the end of the 2000-01 campaign.

Colson was also named to the Preseason All-ACC First Team.

BREY AMONG THE BEST IN CRUNCH TIME

Notre Dame head coach Mike Brey was recently declared the second-best 'crunch time' college basketball coach by The Athletic's Ken Pomeroy. Using his win probability model, Pomeroy assessed a coach's ability to make halftime adjustments. He looked at every game coached over the past eight seasons to determine if a team won more games than it should have based on its halftime win probability.

Here are the top five on the list for post-halftime performance (minimum 150 games, win percentage is relative to expectation).

Head Coach	School	Games	Win Percentage
Dana Altman	Oregon/Creighton	287	0.634
MIKE BREY	NOTRE DAME	280	0.613
Ron Cottrell	Houston Baptist	226	0.600
Bill Self	Kansas	294	0.595
Ed Cooley	Providence	270	0.593

BASKETBALL TIMES PROCLAIMS NOTRE DAME ONE OF THE TOP PROGRAMS IN THE NATION

FORMER STANDOUTS RETURN TO THE IRISH BENCH:

The 2016-17 season marked the most significant shake up of Mike Brey's staff at Notre Dame, when Martin Ingelsby accepted the head coaching position at Delaware while Anthony Solomon moved to an assistant position at Georgetown (he is now currently at Dayton).

Brey immediately looked to his former players, hiring 2002 Notre Dame graduate and All-American Ryan Humphrey and 2009 standout shooting guard Ryan Ayers to fill his two coaching vacancies. Three-time team captain Eric Atkins, a 2014 Notre Dame graduate, then came aboard as the video coordinator.

Joining long time director of basketball operations Harold Swanagan (2002 Notre Dame graduate), Brey's staff now features four of his former players on the game day bench.

Here is a breakdown of the Irish staff members and their statistics at Notre Dame (Humphrey played his first two seasons at Oklahoma, those numbers are not included here).

NCAA STATISTICAL LEADER

Notre Dame finished the 2016-17 season with an 80.0% team free throw percentage, setting an ACC record and leading the country in that category. It also is the 10th-best all-time in the history of NCAA basketball (Harvard holds the record of 82.2 in 1983-84).

It marks the fourth time a Mike Brey coached team has led the country in a statistical category. A rundown of Notre Dame's NCAA statistical championships:

BACK-TO-BACK IN-SEASON TOURNAMENT MVPs FOR FARRELL

Safe to say that senior guard Matt Farrell embraces the competition of in-season tournaments. The Bridgewater, N.J., native enjoyed his break out performances at the 2016 Legends Classic in the Barclays Center, earning tournament MVP honors.

He stepped up another level at the 2017 Maui Jim Maui Invitational, leading the Irish through three victories - including a career-high 27 points against Chaminade and the play of the game in the rally over No. 6/6 Wichita State, stealing an in-bounds pass with less than a minute remaining and finding Bonzie Colson to cut the Shocker lead to one point.

In the past two in-season tournaments, Farrell is averaging 19.4 ppg, shooting .482 from 3FG and averaging 5.4 apg.

1978 IRISH FINAL FOUR REUNION: THE NOAH'S ARK TEAM

by John Heisler

Digger Phelps refers to it as his Noah's Ark team.

The 1977-78 University of Notre Dame men's basketball roster coached by Phelps included enough quality depth that—even with a talented freshman class of five first-year players—the Irish could line up two by two at every position.

"We had two of everything," he says.

"I could bring Bill Laimbeer and Tracy Jackson off the bench with 12 minutes to go in the first half," says Phelps. "And I'd look down at the other bench and think, 'Who are you going to sub?' The two guys I'm putting in are every bit as good as the two guys I'm taking out."

That team is headed back to campus this weekend for a 40th reunion of Notre Dame's qualifier for the 1978 NCAA Final Four.

"When you look at what this group was able to do over the course of all their careers, a lot of it goes back to when I first started at Notre Dame and I met with Eddie Einhorn of TVS," says Phelps.

"I wanted to take our program national, but the major networks weren't carrying college basketball regularly and ESPN was a few years away. Eddie told us to schedule as many good teams as we could on Saturdays in January and February, and we became a big part of the TVS package.

"It was great exposure for our program, and it also meant we played a big-time game virtually every weekend."

The NCAA didn't begin its toughest schedule ranking for men's basketball until about 10 years ago—but if it had been computing those in '77-'78 the Irish slate certainly would have rated as one of the most challenging around.

The end result was that members of that team played on an amazing string of big wins and upsets:

- 1974-75: over eventual NCAA champion UCLA (Dave Batton, Duck Williams, Jeff Carpenter and Randy Haefner were freshmen on that squad.)
- 1975-76: over a UCLA team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four that year
- 1976-77: over a UCLA team to end the Bruins' 115-game nonconference win streak at Pauley Pavilion and over a 29-0 and top-ranked San Francisco team
- 1977-78: over a #1-ranked Marquette team and over a two-loss DePaul squad to win the NCAA Midwest Regional
- 1979-80: over a #1 and 25-0 DePaul team
- 1980-81: over a #1 and unbeaten Kentucky team in Freedom Hall in Louisville and over a #1 and unbeaten Virginia team at the Horizon in Rosemont, Illinois (Kelly Tripucka, Orlando Woolridge, Jackson, Gilbert Salinas and Stan Wilcox were seniors on that roster.)

"The run those guys had? Wow," says Phelps. "That was Notre Dame basketball. And back then you didn't have one-and-done guys, so the quality of all the teams around the country and the games was even better."

From a geographic standpoint, Notre Dame played regular-season games in '77-'78 in New York (Madison Square Garden), Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, Oakland, Louisville, Rochester (N.Y.), Columbia (S.C.) and Dayton.

The Irish played 12 games against teams that finished in the final UPI poll of coaches (taken after conclusion of the 1978 NCAA Championship), including eight against those ranked ninth or higher. Notre Dame faced #1 (and eventual NCAA champion) Kentucky, #2 UCLA twice, #3 Marquette, #6 Arkansas, #7 DePaul twice, #9 Duke, #13 San Francisco, #15 Indiana, #16 Houston and #18 Utah.

Phelps' squad that year played 11 games against teams that won 20 or more games and only eight contests against teams that finished with losing records. Notre Dame's eight defeats came against teams that combined for a .789 winning percentage (195-52).

Notre Dame's opponents that season compiled a combined .656 winning percentage. That compares to the last two full-season leaders in the NCAA toughest schedule category—Baylor at .640 in 2016-17 and Villanova at .631 in 2015-16. The current NCAA leader for 2017-18 is North Carolina at .663. Notre Dame's 1977-78 roster produced 10 eventual NBA draft selections—three picked in the first round (Bill Hanzlik, Tripucka and Woolridge), two in the second (Jackson and Bruce Flowers), two in the third (Laimbeer and Batton), plus one each in the fourth (Rich Branning), fifth (Williams) and eighth (Salinas).

Those 10 players combined to play in 3,691 NBA games, score 46,618 career points and pull down 19,509 rebounds.

The '78 Final Four marked the year before the NCAA began assigning seeds. Only 32 teams made the tournament that season. The Irish wore green socks throughout their '78 NCAA run, much the same as the Notre Dame football team the previous fall had surprised USC with green jerseys in a landmark win over the Trojans that fueled an Irish title in that sport.

Phelps recalls a couple of sidebars connected to that Final Four run:

"We had lost to DePaul at home by a point during the regular season, and we got them again in the regional final. Dave Corzine had scored 46 in their regional semifinal against Louisville. So I told Flowers and Laimbeer, 'I don't care what you do, but you've got 10 fouls and you've got to take care of Corzine.' He had 17 points and seven rebounds, but Flowers and Laimbeer beat him up pretty good."

Some years later, Phelps was in Chicago to see a Tina Turner concert. In a downtown Chicago hotel, he coincidentally noticed singer Whitney Houston drinking tea by herself in the bar.

"We're heading to the elevator, and the door opens and this guy walks out and says to me, 'Digger . . . Gary Garland,'"

Garland's last-second shot at the buzzer had provided the margin of victory for the Blue Demons in their one-point February victory over the Irish at the ACC in '78.

Phelps adds, "I said, 'What are you doing here?' He said, 'I'm a backup singer.' I said, 'What?' Turns out Whitney Houston was his sister—he took us over to meet her."

Notre Dame's former coach, who could be a bit superstitious, also recalls Notre Dame trustee Joe Haggard and his wife Isabell attending Notre Dame's 1978 first-round NCAA game in Tulsa against Houston.

"Before the game I gave her a medal from our pregame Mass," Phelps says. "Then we win and I say to them, 'You better be going to Lawrence, Kansas.' They show up, I gave them one for the Utah game and one for the DePaul game. And we keep winning."

"Now they show up at the Checkerdome (in St. Louis, site of the Final Four). And they're late getting there coming in the back door of the arena, and I'm getting nervous.

"We were so much of a Notre Dame family on and off the court. Those guys were rock stars back then, a lot of it because of Einhorn and the television games. Everywhere we went people would wait outside the locker room or the team bus. I made sure they signed autographs and took pictures before we left because that was important for us to do."

Another reunion attendee this weekend is Pittsburgh resident and Irish fan Dave Kelly (with 15 of his friends), who dressed up as the Pink Panther for a game in the '70s against UCLA. Instead of playing the Notre Dame Victory March before the game, the Notre Dame band played the Pink Panther theme while Kelly delivered the game ball to the officials at midcourt.

"(UCLA guard) Roy Hamilton looked at him like he was nuts," says Phelps. "And our students were crazy back then. There was so much student interest that the ticket office had to create two packages—one that included the UCLA game and another that would include the Indiana game."

"Plus, back then the players lived all four years in the dorms."

"It was all part of the big family."

The 40-year family reunion happens Saturday for the Noah's Ark of Irish men's basketball teams.

MIKE BREY, HEAD COACH

18th Season at ND | George Washington '82 | Career Record: 495-248 | ND Record: 396-196

In 17 seasons as the men's basketball coach at the University of Notre Dame, Mike Brey has guided the Fighting Irish to 395 victories and is the all-time winningest men's basketball coach in school history.

The Irish are enjoying a recent stretch of success that ranks among the best in the 112-year history of basketball under the Golden Dome. Notre Dame was the only school in the nation to make back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Championship Elite Eight at the end of the 2015 and 2016 seasons, claimed an Atlantic Coast Conference title in 2015 and has made two ACC title game appearances in four years of ACC competition.

Brey was named head coach at Notre Dame on July 14, 2000. In his first season with the Irish, his team claimed the 2001 BIG EAST West Division championship and returned to the NCAA Championship for the first time in 12 seasons. Notre Dame soon became a regular in the NCAA tournament by making 12 appearances in 17 seasons with Brey on the sidelines.

In 2011, Brey was the recipient of both the Associated Press and the Henry Iba/USBWA National Coach of the Year award. He was named BIG EAST Coach of the Year in 2007, 2008 and 2011 and three of his players have been named BIG EAST Player of the Year.

Before arriving at Notre Dame, Brey was the head basketball coach at the University of Delaware, where he compiled a 99-52 mark from 1995-2000 and won America East Co-Coach of the Year honors in 1998. Prior to his time at Delaware, he was an assistant coach at Duke University. During his eight years at Duke, the Blue Devils advanced to the Final Four six times and won back-to-back national championships in 1991 and 1992.

Brey graduated from George Washington University in 1982. He played for and coached with legendary high school coach Morgan Wootten at DeMatha High School.

Brey serves on the Coaches vs. Cancer National Council and has helped raise over two million dollars for the organization. He has also partnered with the American Heart Association to create the Men of Heart initiative, raising funds and awareness for men's heart health. Brey is on the National Advisory Board of the Positive Coaching Alliance. He has been inducted into the University of Delaware and George Washington University Halls of Fame.

“The mystery man. One of the things that makes Nik important is that we lost shooting with (the graduation) of (V.J.) Beachem and (Steve) Vasturia. He is a shot maker and has shot it well. He has to take better care of the ball and he has made improvement there. A little bit of an x-factor for us because of his shooting ability.”

Liam Nelligan

Guard | 6-5 / 195 | Senior
La Grange Park, IL | Benet Acad.

MIKE BREY ON NELLIGAN

"We added Liam to the roster as a walk-on because we needed more perimeter practice players for the blue team. In practice, Gibbs, Farrell and Pflueger are on the floor together a lot and I just didn't like having three big guys together on the blue team. He gives us another perimeter guy who can help us flow offensively and more in tune with the way we play."

- Scored his first career field goal against Southeastern Louisiana, while pulling down a career-high two rebounds in three minutes of action.
- Saw his first career action in the final minute of the victory over Mount St. Mary's.

MIKE BREY ON COLSON

"Bonzie needs to do a little bit of everything for us this year. The biggest thing is to have him enjoy the journey this year and not feel pressure. Everyone is going to come after him. He loves to win and is focused on that and that is a great trait to have. It is up to me to find where to play him on the court throughout the game where he will be the toughest matchup."
